About the State

V. R. Govro of Glover recently killed a hog which dressed 719½ pounds.

Congressman D. J. Foster of Burlington was one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the New England society in Brooklyn Thursday evening. His subject was "New Englanders of To-day."

Carroll Francis Wood, a son born December 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wood of Lyndonville, probably has the youngest grandmother on record, her age being 35 years.

There is to be a party for children at Speedwell farms, the home of Theodore N. Vail, in Lyndonville, Saturday, the day before Christmas. About 100 children, between the ages of four and ten, are invited.

Mrs. Lillian McQueen was seriously injured last week at her home in Glover.
By mistake she opened the cellar door, instead of the one leading into the hall, and fell the entire length of the stairs, sustaining severe injuries to both her head and back.

Boston dealers in Christmas trees, who handle 100,000 annually, do not like the new Vermont tax of 25 cents each on evergreen trees sent out of the state.
The dealers say that only pasture trees are used. Foresters believe that the raising of Christmas trees for the market would pay a handsome profit.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Cabot observed the 57th anniversary of their wedding quietly at their home in Brattleboro Tuesday afternoon, December 13. As Mrs. Cabot's 58th birthday anniversary fell upon the same date, she was remembered with many appropriate reminders of the occasion by her friends and neighbors. Other than the receipt of many cards, letters, telegrams, flowers and other small tokens from friends, there was no observance of the wedding anniversary.

The 23rd season of steam navigation on Lake Champlain has just been closed and the business handled, although not a record-breaker, compares favorably with that of former years. Various circumstances served to make it less than the year previous when the tercentenary celebration was held. Among the influences felt is the falling off in the automobile business, which is attributed to the burning of the hotel at Bluff Point, and another was the unfavorable weather-on the excursion days.

O. L. Martin, state commissioner of agriculture, Representative Hatch of Stratford and Attorney General T. G.
Sargent were at the State House, Montpelier, Wednesday, closing the real estate deals and passing on the deeds to the property purchased at Randolph for a state agricultural school. The act passed by the present legislature appropriates $20,000 the first year and $10,000 annually thereafter with which to erect, equip and run this school. The property purchased at Randolph cost in the aggregate about $10,000.

It consists of 77 acres of land, the Maplewood hotel, barns and out-houses, and a perpetual lease of the buildings of the state normal school at that point.

HOUSEBREAKING CASE

AGAINST YOUNG MAN

Arthur Dennis Arrested in Burlington and Placed Under $1,000 Bail for Preliminary Hearing.

Burlington, Dec. 23.—A young man named Arthur Dennis is held under $1-000 bail on the charge of breaking into the residence of Miss Laura Durley on Pomeroy street. Dennis was arrested on Miss Durley's complaint in November. She complained to the police at the time that during one night a man had crawled up the roof of a shed in the rear of her house, smashed the window of her sleeping room and gained entrance. She summoned the assistance of her cousin, Mrs. Purinton, who was staying with her and they tackled the man, who beat a retreat through the same window by which he entered.
When Dennis was arrested Miss Durley was unable to identify him as the millennium intruder, and the prisoner was allowed to go.

On the night of December 14, Dennis was arrested on complaint of Eugene Luck, who said the man was looking into the windows of his residence on North Winslow avenue. Mr. Luck followed him and turned him over to Officer Gorman. On the evidence presented in court late Wednesday afternoon, Dennis was found guilty, fined $10 and committed to the city jail for 30 days.

Before he left the court room, Dennis was arrested on a warrant issued by State's Attorney Shaw, charging him with forcibly entering Miss Durley's residence at night.

In the testimony in the "loitering" case Wednesday, Miss Durley was also a witness in addition to Mr. Luck. She testified that since the attempt to enter her house was made, she had been living with a relative, Newton Hudson, at the "Ormond" on North Winslow avenue and on the same evening that Dennis was arrested on Mr. Luck's complaint, Miss Durley said she was calling her dog in front of the "Ormond" and it attracted the attention of a man who was standing there. He turned around and she saw that it was Dennis. She then went into the house and stood in the hallway, and Dennis turned about and came and looked towards her, which frightened her. In reply to City Attorney Vilas Miss Durley said she was frightened because she had the impression that Dennis was the man who had entered her house. This evidence, however, was stricken out, as having no bearing on the case. Mr. Hudson also identified Dennis as a man he saw in front of the "Ormond" that night.
